HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

The more access people with criminal histories have to community services, the less likely they are to re-offend. The more we as a society are able to reduce recidivism, the safer and more productive our community will be for all of us.

The ACE Leon County Transitions Resource Guide 2016-2017: Community Resources to Assist Transition to Reentry is designed to provide inmates, formerly incarcerated people, counselors, social service providers, probation officers, teachers and community members with information about the many resources available in Leon County. The resources included in this resource guide address the myriad needs of people who are re-entering society from incarceration: those who are ready to make positive changes, find employment, secure a place to live, and those who may need medical, substance abuse, mental health and other counseling services.

The guide is divided into the following sections:

Using Community Resources: Asking for Help 8-10

In this section, people needing services are given a template so they can practice making inquiries in person or by phone.

My Plan for Successful Transition 11-13

In this section, people in correctional facilities and formerly incarcerated people can develop a release plan and use the resource guide to find the groups best suited to assist them.

USING COMMUNITY RESOURCES:

ASKING FOR HELP IN PERSON OR BY PHONE

If you are a formerly incarcerated person, you may not have sought help from the community in a long time. You may not be comfortable asking for help in person or by phone. You may not have used the Internet much to find information or services. When you contact an agency or organization for help or information, you should be prepared. Think ahead before you call or meet with someone to get answers to your questions. Be prepared to write down the answers you receive. Be aware that many of the agencies use automated answering services and you will need to listen carefully in order to know what numbers to press to get the answers you need.

Don't give up! Help is out there if you know how to ask for it. Use the outlines on the following pages to help you prepare to contact community resources:

COMMUNITY RESOURCE: _____

Hello, my name is _____.

I'm calling to find out more about your program/services in _____.

Can you please tell me what resources/services you offer?

Do I need to make an appointment?

Can you please tell me where you are located? (Directions? Bus Route?)

What are your hours?

Do your services cost money?

What documents do I need to bring?

HELPLINE 2-1-1

BIG BEND HELPLINE 2-1-1

www.211bigbend.net

Helpline 2-1-1 is a 24/7 hotline that assists people with information and referrals in English and Spanish in all eight counties of the Big Bend. Skilled hotline counselors treat all calls confidentially and anonymously. Counselors help callers assess their needs, provide supportive counseling, provide crisis intervention and suicide prevention, and offer information and referrals to community services. There are no eligibility criteria and services are free.

2-1-1 Big Bend's online community resource directory (www.211bigbend.org) is comprehensive and up-to-date. The referral database contains detailed information about more than 1,200 human service programs and mental health providers in the Big Bend area. 2-1-1 Big Bend offers free iPhone and Android apps that users can download to access the online directory.
